50 Ways to Celebrate Nature at Jenkins

We've got 50 ways to celebrate Jenkins turning 50! We hope you enjoyed the first list of our 25 favorite things to do in our gardens in winter and spring. Get ready to explore more with 25 ways to discover, observe, and connect during the summer and fall seasons.

- [ ] Listen for and identify bird calls
- [ ] Sign up for an upcoming program
- [ ] Enjoy a summer evening stroll
- [ ] Follow the scent of fragrant summer blooms
- [ ] Stay cool in the shade of our tree canopy
- [ ] Notice dragonflies darting across the water
- [ ] Spot summer-blooming azaleas
- [ ] Look for turtles basking at the pond
- [ ] Slow down and try cloudwatching
- [ ] Explore the plants in bloom around the pond
- [ ] Observe bees and butterflies on flowers
- [ ] Find golden flowers in our gardens
- [ ] Plant something new from The Garden Shop
- [ ] Count the scurrying chipmunks
- [ ] Look for spider webs
- [ ] Search for seed heads and fallen acorns
- [ ] Be a fall foliage aficionado
- [ ] Study tree trunk textures
- [ ] Find plants that have fruits and berries
- [ ] Take a crisp, leaf-crunching walk
- [ ] Watch wildlife forage for winter
- [ ] Join us for Winter Luminary Nights
- [ ] Spot winter birds among the bare trees
- [ ] Look for ice forming on the pond
- [ ] Donate to support our next 50 years!